Music makes a world of difference to the elderly

GRAEME POPE

the founder of Aged Care Music Resources

Aged Care Music Resources is a unique Australian enterprise solely dedicated to developing age-appropriate music and music-based resources to improve life quality for our elders in care, particularly those living in full-time care.

Graeme comes from a long career in aviation operating Boeing 727 and Boeing 747 as a professional Flight Engineer, never imagining he would ever be connected with the aged care sector.

His story 'The Music of John Sidney An Aviator's Passion' is an engaging story where you will discover how a chance meeting of one incredibly talented pianist from Tasmania completely changed his direction in life.

Driven by the knowledge that music makes a world of difference to the elderly, Graeme has spent the past 16 years spreading the word about music's value, producing and recording the music of Australian artists, and creating music-based resources for use in aged care.

During this time he's traveled the length and breadth of Australia visiting aged care and retirement facilities in order to meet and talk with residents, carers, therapists, and activities and lifestyle coordinators to learn more about their needs.

Wanting to benefit individuals on a whole-person scale, Aged Care Music Resources draws on the expertise of diversional and music therapists as well as a range of other professionals to design, develop and produce high quality and hard-working music resources.

The aim is not only to provide easy listening and entertainment for the elderly, but also to support aged care professionals in their delivery of varied movement, mental-stimulation, memory and recreational sessions by creating a range of resources that are easy for therapists and facilitators to use, and wonderful entertainment for the people in their care.

fully matched music collection
invaluable

381 Songs Studio recorded on 19 Cds

That's music for every song in the 2 books!

This resource has been created in direct response to requests from therapists, activity planners and lifestyle coordinators in aged care facilities throughout Australia.

It's a unique resource, which took two years to produce and we're proud to say it has been enthusiastically embraced by aged care practitioners Australia-wide since its release July 2014.

In essence, the Blue and Red Book CD Collection is a complete musical accompaniment the Blue and Red Large Print Song Books, which have been in aged care since the 1970s, But the collection is so much more than that.

Comprising 381 songs, all played and arranged the way elderly people love and remember them, the resource can be used in myriad ways.

THE ultimate MUSIC ACTIVITY COLLECTION

Do you have the Red and Blue Large Print Song Books in your aged care facility but neither a piano nor a pianist to provide the musical accompaniment?

Matched to the song lists and lyrics in the popular Blue and Red Books by Ulverscroft, this two-volume collection will provide endless entertainment for your elderly residents and be a valuable addition to your activities tool kit.

The Blue Book CD Collection has 7 Cds.
The Red Book CD Collection has 12 Cds.
That's a total of 381 studio-recorded piano tunes all played and arranged with joy and life by Australian entertainer Barry Hall, OAM.

Some of the ways the music can be used

- Group sing-alongs
- Song-naming games
- Music quizzes
- Movement-to-music programs
- Bus excursions
- Easy listening

Praise for the collection

“ Thank you - I have needed a resource like this for years and my residents just love it. The first time I played the music, a few gentlemen got up to dance while the ladies watched and sang along. Best of all, we no longer need to wait for our volunteer piano player to enjoy a good sing-along. ”

The Green Book CD Collection is another premium activities resource created at the request of the aged care industry looking to cater to the needs of a new generation entering care.

In recent times, we have seen an increase in the number of people from the Baby Boomer generation entering aged care facilities and community based activity groups.

The 200 songs recorded in this 10 CD collection were compiled to cater to the Baby Boomer' taste, with music from the 1950s through to the 1970's.

The music in this CD collection will provide hours of pleasurable listening, but the following are just some of the other ways in which it can be used:

- As music to play on bus excursions
- Music for quizzes and games
- Music for movement such as strength training, stretching, balance and cardiac workouts
- As background music for happy hour drinks or parties
- As backing music for sing-alongs or karaoke
- As music to work to

GREEN LARGE PRINT SONG BOOK MUSIC EDITION SECOND EDITION: each arrangement is made up of treble clef and bass clef in 'easy play' format, and includes chords and song lyrics. The songs were written in the same key as the original compositions. It also comes with a suite of optional sheet music books; ie, a Lower Key Supplement, an E♭ Instrument book, B♭ Instrument book and the original version. The original version will continue to be available for those who need only the lyrics, melody line and chords for this collation of 200 much-loved songs of 1950s, '60s and 70s.

The GREEN LARGE PRINT SONG BOOK MUSIC EDITION LOWER KEY SUPPLEMENT: in this sheet music book, where we considered the key the song was originally written in a key maybe a little too high for seniors who want to enjoy chorale and group singing, we have transposed those songs to a lower key. There are 44 songs out of the 200 in the Green Book Collection included in this supplement.

You can also purchase both the GREEN LARGE PRINT SONG BOOK MUSIC EDITION SECOND EDITION and the LOWER KEY SUPPLEMENT together as a cost-effective package.

Introducing Musical Armchair Travels

You are probably wondering what is so special about this armchair travels package, since most working in lifestyle and activities are very familiar with the various ways in which an armchair travels session can be conducted.

However, Colette Baya, the program developer, designed an armchair travels session with a difference, incorporating the use of music.

We all know music is such a powerful medium. combine it with reminiscence and you have two powerful ingredients in the mix, that when correctly managed in any activity, can impact positively on quality of life for those living in community or residential aged care, and especially for those living with dementia.

Armchair travels facilitated with music will trigger memories that can take people on imaginative journeys and so, during your Musical Armchair Travels sessions, music becomes a powerful tool to tease out memorable experiences from the participants in your group. On the enclosed training DVD, Colette demonstrates how she runs her musical armchair travels session.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR:

Ann Rogers has been a member of DTAWA Inc since the beginning and is currently serving on the Management Committee.

Prior to the forming of the Association she ran a support group for people involved in the Lifestyle and Leisure Industry.

Ann has worked with a wide variety of clients but her main focus has been Intergenerational Activities and, in the early 1980's, she started an 'Adopt a Gran' scheme in Western Australia.

Ann has concentrated on activities for clients with dementia and has produced several books and musical programs, whilst suitable for all clients, they are of special interest to people with dementia.

SHALL WE DANCE is a dance program designed for seated clients written by Ann Rogers, and it is the latest addition to a collection of musical activity programs Ann has written. The full program runs for about 30 minutes. It involves a variety of activities and can be a lot of fun for those participating.

Ann wrote: BENEFITS OF MUSIC AND MOVEMENT

When planning an activities program, the challenge is to find appropriate music. Full orchestral arrangements, loud voices and persistent heavy beats tend to create an atmosphere of tension. John Sidney's music has a gentle beat and his repertoire of old favourites provides people with opportunities to sing-along, or just to relax and listen.

Movement to music is instinctive, most of us hum, tap or sway in response to a rhythm or tempo. Happy memories are revived by familiar, much loved melodies.

Dancing is great exercise! In the forties and fifties many young people "went dancing" up to three times a week. Dancing provided social opportunities to be with friends and meet new people. Many of my clients met their husbands and wives at the local dance. In those days ladies did not "go to the pub", the local dance was the place to meet nice girls.

Listening to the music and joining in the movements brings back many happy memories. We also gain benefits from improving mobility of body, limbs and mind, as we follow the steps and remember the good old days.

Remember That Song

ABOUT THE ARTIST:

John Sidney was a part of the Tasmanian entertainment scene for many years, both as a live entertainer and a television performer. He was a regular guest at every major venue around Hobart for many years and was considered an institution in Tasmanian entertainment.

At the early age of eight years, John began his career by playing at his first professional engagement in dance halls. He later became well known on radio and television, particularly on his long-running TV series "Teatime Tunes", (and later "Teletunes") in which he appeared with fellow musician Peter Richman.

John was a very clever magician and ventriloquist and for many years in the early days of Hobart television, he produced and compered the children's TV show with his famous doll Charlie.

During the 1960s John released his first LP titled "Both Sides Of John Sidney". It was so popular at the time it was promoted on TV, orders exceeded double that of the quantity initially produced.

In later years John's appearances as an entertainer expanded to mainland Australia where he performed at venues throughout Melbourne and regional Victoria.

Due to popular demand for his music, John later released a series of CDs recorded in Hobart studios. A web site dedicated to his works made its debut on line 22nd November 2001 taking his music around the world.

- * Positive outcome for all participants.
- * Promotes self confidence and increases quality of life.
- * Encourages social interaction and a gentle competitive atmosphere.
- * Achievable with a variety of groups, large or small
- * Program works well on a one-to-one basis.
- * Sensory Stimulation
- * Provides pleasure and happiness and a sense of achievement.

While listening to John Sidney's music and noticing the positive response in her clients with Dementia, Ann Rogers wrote a musical and mental stimulation quiz program titled 'Remember That Song' incorporating songs featured on the John Sidney piano music CDs.

The quiz idea came from listening to a promo CD Ann received at a Diversional Therapist's Convention. "The timing of each tune and choice of selection made the project possible" she said. "The music has a nice beat and is not too fast or intrusive".
